

Says No Proof Sukarno Took Part in Coup

Indonesian Foreign
Minister Outlines
Position of President

TOKYO (AP) — Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik said today he knew of no proof that President Sukarno was involved in the abortive Communist coup attempt in Indonesia last year.

However, he noted that Sukarno's name has been mentioned in testimony at the trial in Jakarta of former Foreign Minister Subandrio and said the judiciary would investigate those references.

Speaking at the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan, Malik said if Sukarno's involvement in the coup attempt is established "or that he ever was at fault, the People's Consultative Assembly will ask for his explanation."

Involved in Coup

Subandrio, accused of being involved in the October 1965 coup attempt, is now on trial on charges of treason, subversion and corruption.

Sukarno's name has cropped up frequently in testimony concerning Communist party activities in Indonesia, but there has been no direct accusation against him. He said in a statement read at the trial that he had no knowledge of the planned coup.

Malik, in Tokyo on a global tour to explain the policies of the new Indonesian government, also clarified Sukarno's role in the government.

Subordinate Position

He said the president's position is now subordinate to the People's Consultative Assembly, headed by Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, and that anything Sukarno says in contradiction to the assembly "of course cannot be implemented."

"The government is trying to return the position of the president to that of the constitution and to the decisions of the assembly," he said. Then he added: "Of course, the president himself has the right to resign if he feels he does not want to continue."

Migrants in Third Day Of Picketing

ALMOND (AP) — Migrant farm workers picketed a potato warehouse firm Sunday for a third consecutive day demanding the firm recognize their union as a bargaining agent.

About a dozen persons picketed Sunday. They were led by Jesus Salas, a college student who helped lead a workers' march from Wautoma to Madison in August.

James L. Burns & Sons Co. is being asked by Salas to recognize Obreros Unidos, a union which he says has the support of the AFL-CIO.

The warehouse company said most of its 150 workers are not represented by the union.

Relations Slightly Better

Johnson, Gromyko to Meet in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko late today amid a scent of slight improvement in U. S.-Soviet relations.

U. S. sources cautioned against any great expectations from the White House session, which was in the nature of a courtesy visit since Gromyko is in this country attending the U.N. General Assembly fall session.

But the mere fact of a Gromyko trip to Washington was a step above the icy atmosphere that set in with the massive U. S. military involvement in Viet Nam in 1965.

A year ago Gromyko stayed away from the U. S. capital, though he went to New York as usual for the annual U.N. opening and had stopped at the White House in previous years.

The Kremlin still supports North Viet Nam against what it terms American aggression, and it has served notice it will not move for peace talks until Hanoi wants them. Gromyko spurned another peace bid in New York Saturday, which had been presented by British Foreign Secretary George Brown.

What appears new is a Soviet interest in possible deals with the West on matters other than Viet Nam. And a major reason for this, in the opinion of U. S. analysts, is that Communist China's Red Guard convulsion has heavily damaged Peking in her rivalry with the Soviet Union for leadership of the Communist camp.

According to this theory, Moscow is now so far ahead in the Sino-Soviet contest that the Kremlin feels free to pursue its own foreign policy ends regardless of Chinese charges of Soviet collusion with the United States.

Cloture Vote Today

Threaten Filibuster On D.C. Home Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was to vote today on a motion to block a threatened filibuster against a proposal to give home rule to the District of Columbia.

The cloture motion needs a two-thirds majority of those voting. And opponents predicted its failure — particularly because a filibuster had not even begun.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, in calling for today's cloture vote, said prolonged dispute over home rule "would snuff out the last flicker of hope for an October adjournment" of the 89th Congress. Leaders still hope for adjournment, by the end of next week.

Home rule, which has racial overtones because the nation's capital is 63 per cent Negro, has been strongly opposed by Southern senators.

The district now is governed by Congress and by three commissioners appointed by the President.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., offered the home rule proposal Friday as an amendment to the $4.4-billion bill that would extend the Higher Education Act for three years. Morse's amendment would provide a district government with an elected mayor and an elected city council.

Other Bills Wait

Action on several major bills must await the outcome of the home rule test.

One of those requiring such action is the college aid bill, which the Senate is expected to pass speedily once it comes up. That would clear the way for calling up three appropriation bills and important tax legislation.

The House has scheduled action on some minor, but fiercely contested bills before taking up the last major piece of President Johnson's legislature program: A far-ranging housing bill authorizing money to rebuild whole sections of cities. The Senate passed it earlier in the session.

One minor bill would establish an 11,000-acre national park in the Indiana dunes along the south shore of Lake Michigan. It has been caught in controversy for years.

Bound for Boston

Another Misguided Traveler in London

CHELMSFORD, Mass. (AP) — London has become a stopover point for trips from Chicago to Los Angeles and Los Angeles to Boston — at least for two passengers who passed through Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

Fred Hildreth, one of the passengers, says his unscheduled flight to Shannon, Ireland, and London was "quite a colorful experience — I saw the Irish countryside."

Hildreth, 26, assistant to the sales manager of a safety equipment manufacturing firm in Glendale, Calif., boarded Trans World Airlines Flight 770 in Los Angeles Saturday, expecting to reach Boston in six hours.

30-Hour Trip

He arrived in Boston Sunday night, 30 hours later. His trip included landing at Shannon due to fog over London, and a 2½-hour wait in London terminal because he had no passport to leave.

He said that when he got off TWA 770 in Chicago and went looking for TWA 120 to Boston he got wrong directions and reboarded TWA 770, which was headed nonstop for London.

TWA 770 was also the flight that last Tuesday carried Josephine Griffin, a grandmother, from Chicago, where she had been visiting her sister, Lila Long, to London. She had intended to board a plane headed back home to Los Angeles.

An airline spokesman said someone giving directions had assumed Mrs. Griffin wanted to meet someone who had arrived on TWA 770 from Los Angeles.

Hildreth was bound for Chelmsford, about 25 miles northwest of Boston, to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Hildreth.

At the TWA headquarters in Kansas City, a spokesman said his misrouting might have been due to "any one of a number of things," including "just a plain mistake on someone's part."

U.S. Reinforces Buffer Zone; McNamara Arrives in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States moved heavy reinforcements up to the embattled demilitarized zone today as B52 bombers raided North Vietnamese infiltration routes just above the buffer area.

Simultaneously, U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arrived in Saigon for a four-day visit to the battlefronts and a survey of the men and money needed for the war.

U.S. military headquarters announced that the two Marine divisions already in the northern provinces were moved closer to the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone which separates North and South Viet Nam.

Reinforcement Massed

A battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade was moved to Da Nang to reinforce the Leathernecks. It was the first time in the war that U.S. Army troops were deployed in the northern provinces.

U.S. reinforcements were massed in the north to help stem the mounting influx of North Vietnamese forces into South Viet Nam and to bolster the allied forces against an expected major Communist offensive.

Heavy fighting has been in progress just south of the demilitarized zone almost continuously since mid-July. In the last nine weeks, the Leathernecks have killed 1,071 North Vietnamese regulars — the equivalent of two battalions, the count to 1,071, U.S. headquarters said.

Formations of B52s struck at dawn just north of the demilitarized zone, pounding a base camp and bivouac and supply areas used by the North Vietnamese infiltrating into South Viet Nam.

Fly 12 Missions

Inside the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone itself, U.S. Marine and Air Force planes flew 12 missions Sunday, hitting at North Vietnamese positions west of coastal highway No. 1.

McNamara, visiting Viet Nam for the eighth time, noted that U.S. forces here had nearly doubled since his last visit a year ago. There were 170,000 U.S. servicemen here then. There are 321,500 now and the total is expected to grow to 350,000 to 400,000 by the end of the year.

"We do not intend to destroy the Communist regime in North Viet Nam," McNamara said in a brief airport statement. He said the American objective remained the same — to enable the South Vietnamese government to act without fear of pressure from the North.

Hanoi Rejects Plea of Pope

North Vietnamese
Say 'Vague Calls for Peace' of No Avail

TOKYO (AP) — The Viet Cong today rejected Britain's plan for peace in Viet Nam and Pope Paul VI's appeals for peace.

"It is of no avail at this moment to issue vague calls for peace in Viet Nam without pointing one's finger at the U.S. war criminals and obliging them to withdraw their troops from South Viet Nam," a commentary by the Communist Liberation Press Agency, said.

On Saturday North Viet Nam and the Soviet Union rejected the plan put forward by British Foreign Secretary George Brown last week. The plan called for the Viet Cong to be present at any peace talks.

The Viet Cong commentary did not name the Pope but it referred to the mission he sent to Saigon last week.

Archbishop Sergio Pignedoli, head of the papal mission, returned to the Vatican Sunday and expressed satisfaction with his trip. He said contact with leaders of various religions in South Viet Nam "has convinced me that there is a common denominator on which to build mutual understanding and collaborate for the good of the country."

Negroes in Florida Disarm Policeman, Arrested in Fracas

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Warning shots were fired in the air and three Negroes were arrested after a crowd of them disarmed two policemen who tried to break up a fight.

Police said two white officers, W.L. Howell and G.R. Stroud, were surrounded Sunday by about 300 Negroes who took their guns, nightsticks and portable two-way radio.

Reinforcements dispersed the mob. Stroud was treated for head injuries at a hospital and released.

Remains Unpredictable

Inez Misses Texas, Heads for Mexico

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Inez slashed the Mexican Coast north of Tampico today and headed inland on a course that may spare South Texas and its multimillion-dollar citrus crop.

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans reported that Tampico, a city of 200,000 population, had wind gusts of 90 miles an hour. A portion of the 17-day-old storm, which has taken at least 150 lives since developing out in the Caribbean, moved over the Mexican Coast, the Weather Bureau said.

Moving West

It added in a 6 a.m. EDT advisory, that the 50-mile-wide eye of the storm was expected to go inland this morning 25 to 100 miles north of Tampico and 150 to 225 miles south of Brownsville, near the villages of Morpico on El Sabino and Nuevo in the state of Tamaulipas.

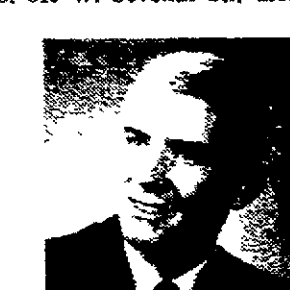

The dangerous hurricane was located by Brownsville radar about 195 miles south of Brownsville. Inez was moving westward at six miles per hour. It was the second recent 1933 hurricane 90 per cent of the change in course for the hurricane was destroyed.

Legislators
Of Wisconsin
Split on Vote

GOP Representatives
Oppose Schools Bill;
Democrats Say 'Yes'

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Wisconsin legislators were divided five to four on the question of whether the state would benefit from passage of a $2.18 billion bill to assist elementary and secondary schools during the period ending June 30, 1968. The measure was approved 237 to 97 on Thursday.

CASTING his vote in the "aye" column with other Democratic members of the delegation, Rep. John A. Race, Sixth District-D., Fond du Lac, explained that he thought the legislation might do his district "some good" and that he would like to see the program continued for "a few more years."

On the other hand, Rep. John W. Byrnes, Eighth District-R., Green Bay, who voted against the measure along with Reps. Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield; Glenn R. Davis, New Berlin; and Vernon W. Thomson, Richland Center, all Republicans, gave three reasons for voting against the bill.

More Than Requested

"It called for even more funds than the President requested," Byrnes complained. "For another thing, the program was not worth the huge amounts of money which has been spent on it. It did not yield a dollar-to-dollar value."

"I also objected to the bill because I thought it would have been more appropriate to give each state a certain amount of money and let the state spend it where it is most needed, without any Federal strings attached to it," he concluded.

All the Republicans who voted against final passage of the education bill, voted for a motion which would have cut the funds $343 million. It was defeated 185 to 150.

Congressman Race split from the other Democratic members of the state's delegation who opposed the motion, and voted for it. He pointed out the measure authorized funds over and above the President's request and in view of the heavy expenditures needed for the war in Viet Nam, every possible economy in domestic spending should be enforced.

Rep. Alvin E. O'Konski, Mercer Republican, who recently was hospitalized for a minor heart attack, was not present when the final vote was taken at 9 p.m. Thursday. The congressman's physician has insisted that he limit his time on Capitol Hill for a week to four hours daily.

Blaska May Be Candidate

MADISON (AP) — A circuit court judge ruled today Assemblyman Jerome Blaska, the Sun Prairie Democrat who has been bouncing off and on the ballot, should be among the candidates put before the voters Nov. 8.

Judge William Sachtjen said Blaska, beaten in the Democratic primary, may be a candidate for re-election despite an informal attorney general's opinion declaring his nomination papers invalid.

Blaska, following his defeat by Paul Villar of Monona, filed as an independent, and stated on his papers he was a "Progressive Democrat." State law forbids independents from using the names of the two established parties in describing their political principles.

To Hear AP
Libel Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to review a $500,000 judgment won in a Fort Worth, Texas, state court by former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker in a libel suit against The Associated Press.

The suit was based on AP's account of Walker's activities during rioting at the University of Mississippi in 1962. The disorder was occasioned by admission into the university of James Meredith, a Negro.

This is one of 15 actions instituted by Walker against The Associated Press and various newspapers throughout the United States seeking damages aggregating $33,250,000. All actions are based on accounts of Walker's activities on the University of Mississippi campus.

Mirro Aluminum
Walkout Ended

MANITOWOC (AP) — A walkout that began in July at seven Mirro Aluminum Co. plants was declared ended Sunday by the firm and by Local 6499 of the United Steel Workers.

In a joint announcement, the union and the company said members voted to accept the company's latest offer. Spokesmen declined to discuss vote totals or details of the settlement.

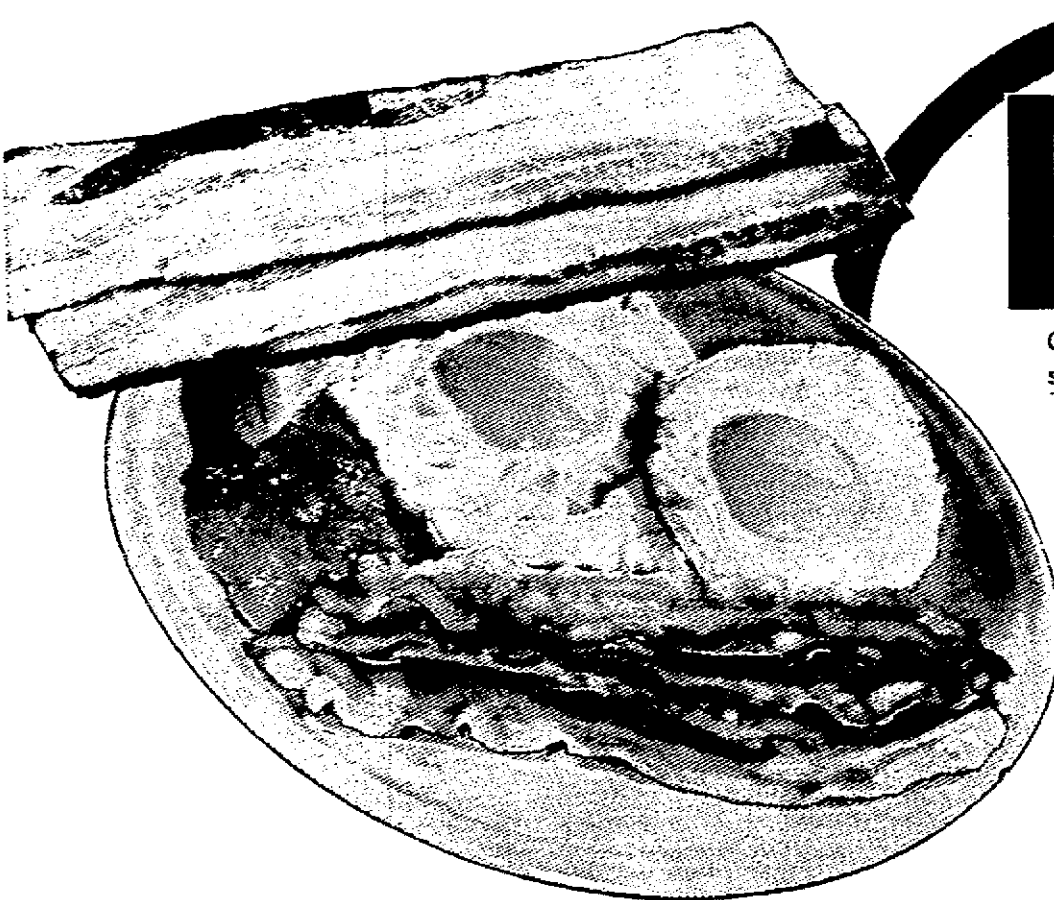

About 2,000 workers were affected by the walkout at the company's plants in the Manitowoc-Two Rivers area. Spokesmen said all employees were to be called back to jobs by Oct. 17.

Sunday, the first day of Fire school's 13 classrooms, a library Prevention Week, he was back and an office despite efforts of three fire departments. Damage was estimated at $200,000.

AHS Observes '66 Homecoming

It was a gala homecoming. From early morning, when band members and parade participants gathered at the east end of College Avenue for the parade through downtown, to the football victory over the Fond du Lac Cardinals, to the dance, everything was almost perfect. Even the weather was all Appleton High School students could ask. A brief afternoon shower only made the ensuing sunshine more bright.

Returning football lettermen were introduced at halftime in ceremonies conducted by members of Pep Club. At the evening dance, carrying out the homecoming theme, "Spirit of '66", there were still other alums, back to greet old friends and keep in touch with AHS.

Alumni Who Came back for homecoming visited during Saturday evening's dance at the high school gym. They are Steve Adams, now a freshman at Northwestern University; Jeff Rushton, a student at Carroll

Last Year's homecoming royalty presented crowns to this year's king and queen during intermission at the homecoming dance Saturday evening at Appleton High School. Above, relinquishing their titles to the newly selected royalty, Jeff Huttenberg and Dede Daffoe prepare to crown Marnie Hoks and Don Daffoe. # Wife Says Daughters Resent Father's Smoking Restrictions

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband is a thoracic surgeon. He has operated on hundreds of people whose lungs have been ravaged by cigarettes. As you know, medical science has discovered a link between cigarette smoking and lung cancer.

We are very proud of our two teen-age daughters. They have been warned of the dangers of smoking and I doubt seriously that they will ever take up the habit.

Both girls are popular. They go to many house parties and their friends seem to be level-headed and sensible. Drinking is not allowed at these parties since we parents have agreed to ban it.

Now my husband wants to impose an additional ban when these teen-agers come to our home — no smoking. He has explained that it is not a moral issue but a health issue.

Our daughters are unhappy about it and have let him know it. They feel that this rule will keep some of their friends away.

I do not want to challenge my husband's authority as head of the house, nor do I question his professional conclusions. But I do question whether it is wise to impose our health standards on others. Will you express your opinion, please? — Surgeon's Wife

Dear Wife: If your husband were a teacher or a clergyman I would agree with you. The teen-agers would certainly interpret the cigarette ban as a moral issue in spite of his protestations and they would resent it — as well they might.

Since your husband is a surgeon, however, I feel that the ban against smoking in your home would serve as an effective reminder that cigarettes can be deadly. A sensible teen-ager would not be resentful of the prohibition, and he would be respectful — and perhaps even grateful. I say more power to your husband.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Who gives the wedding when the girl's parents are divorced?

My first husband (the father of the girl) wants to foot the bills, which is just fine with me. My present husband has never met my first husband and has no desire to meet him. He says he will not go.

I, on the other hand, dread the whole affair because my ex-husband's wife will be there and I despise her.

Our daughter doesn't care who gives the wedding or who attends. She is interested only in having the most elegant and glamorous affair possible. In other words she's selling out to the highest bidder. What do you think about this? — N.Y. Mess

Dear N.Y. Mess: Let the girl's father pay for the wedding. Leave your present husband at home. Put on your best face and be as gracious as you can to the woman you despise. This is little enough to do for a girl who undoubtedly has shed many tears because her parents could not make it together.

Do you feel ill at ease . . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Mary Yingling, city nurse and "Ann Landers" booklet, "The Key To Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin p.m. each Wednesday and 7 to 9 and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Asian Allies Problem at Manila Meeting

Could Hurt LBJ's Efforts With Their Hard-Line Stands

BY ROWLAND EVANS AND ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — The big unspoken danger awaiting President Johnson in Manila is, ironically, the hard-line anti-Communism of his Asian allies. The usual practice is to who will meet with him there. While thoroughly approving Mr. Johnson's peace-seeking trip to Manila later this month, U.S. diplomats in Washington are privately worried about the attitude of the most militant anti-Communist nations fighting alongside U.S. troops in South Viet Nam. Public opposition to Mr. Johnson's peace overtures would certainly be embarrassing. At worst, it is feared, they could actually derail peace efforts.

The worst danger stems from South Korea, which has two divisions fighting in Viet Nam. Since the end of the Korean war in 1953, the 38th parallel splitting Korea has been an impenetrable military barrier between the Communists in the north and the anti-Communist South Koreans led by Gen. Chung Hee Park, South Korea's president.

Affects S. Korea

Thus, any possible settlement in Viet Nam that ends the war, Thailand, which lies next to the barriers between the Communist north and the anti-Communist south has a deep and political impact on South Korea.

Such an agreement will raise the question, abhorrent to the South Korean government, of political agitation for some sort of similar arrangement in Korea. If the United States leads the way toward eventual accommodations between North and South Viet Nam, will the U.S. eventually promote similar contracts between Seoul and Pyongyang?

The answer, of course, is a resounding "no." The two situations are entirely different. The trouble is that the South Koreans see deadly parallels in Viet Nam.

Accordingly, the South Korean government, backed up by the moral and military force of those two Korean divisions in Viet Nam, may insist on the veto power over South Vietnam's peace policies now being studied in the White House.

Oppose Johnson Plan

For example, President Johnson's offer of economic help to North Viet Nam after the war and his efforts to bring Hanoi out of the Chinese Communist orbit are already being quietly resisted by the South Koreans.

Likewise, the strong hints that a negotiated settlement would his part to keep them in line.

To Your Good Health

Regular Inoculations Are Rabies Safe-Guard

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. Dear Dr. Molner: The people kept under observation for 10 days in my building have a pet dog which bit my daughter a week ago. I want to have the dog tested for rabies. They insist that the dog is given shots every year and there is no danger. The wound has healed margin. If at the end of 10 days, the dog is alive and well, then the bitten person need not fear rabies.

Mr. Johnson is well aware of all this. At Manila, the President will make the strongest possible appeal to South Korea to back a negotiated settlement in Viet Nam. He will emphasize the fundamental differences between a political settlement there and the semi-permanent division of Korea (now more than 12 years old).

But the mere fact that South Korea has been so generous with its troops in South Viet Nam gives Gen. Park a strong bargaining position in Manila. Rather than liquidate the war with negotiations in which the Communist Viet Cong will share, the South Koreans privately advocate a hard-line policy of military victory.

Thailand has Equal Stake Nor are the South Koreans alone in this approach to the war. Thailand, which lies next to the bloody path of Communist Chinese expansion, has an equal stake with South Korea in defeating the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese rather than negotiating with them.

Even today, the northern provinces of Thailand are being systematically mined by Communist agents working under the direction of Peking. Finally, President Johnson will be under even more intense pressure from that antiquated anti-Communist on the island of Formosa, Chiang Kai-shek, who almost certainly will have an official observer at the Manila conference.

Although the Philippines is expected to be more pliable, President Ferdinand Marcos is but with proper care can be suspicious of negotiations and kept under excellent control. could join with the Koreans, and your case, being controlled by diet alone, obviously is a relatively mild one. ## Two Thought Drowned Four Others Saved

DELAFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Two persons were feared drowned late Sunday in a boating accident on Nagawauke Lake near this Waukesha County community.

Harry J. Swinford, 31, of Milwaukee and Richard D. Hoffer, 23, of Elm Grove vanished when a boat Hoffer was operating overturned about 50 feet from shore.

Four other persons in the small craft, all from the Milwaukee area, were rescued after clinging to the side of the boat for several minutes.

Witnesses said the craft began filling with water as Hoffer backed it away from a municipal boat launching facility. Wind made the water choppy, officials said.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please tell me something about diabetes mellitus. My doctor told me only that I have diabetes but I noticed that on the insurance form he wrote diabetes mellitus.

My blood sugar then was 126. I do not take insulin, but follow a diet, and my blood sugar is now 88.

Is this type of diabetes serious and is it hereditary? I have been very nervous because of sickness and deaths in the family. Could nerves play a part? — Mrs. A. C.

Diabetes mellitus is the technical name for "sugar diabetes," or just plain diabetes as we usually call it. The full formal name is used to distinguish it from diabetes insipidus, which is quite another illness.

My blood sugar then was 126. I do not take insulin, but follow a diet, and my blood sugar is now 88.

Is this type of diabetes serious and is it hereditary? I have been very nervous because of sickness and deaths in the family. Could nerves play a part? — Mrs. A. C.

Diabetes mellitus is the technical name for "sugar diabetes," or just plain diabetes as we usually call it. The full formal name is used to distinguish it from diabetes insipidus, which is quite another illness.

Diabetes is always serious, but with proper care can be kept under excellent control. and your case, being controlled by diet alone, obviously is a relatively mild one. Stick to your diet and you should have little difficulty.

For further information in understanding why and how diet is important, and why mild cases can be controlled without medication, read my booklet, "Diabetes, the Sneaky Disease." To obtain a copy, send 25 cents in coin and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have a calcification problem affecting my hearing and equilibrium. A friend suggested that I quit fruit juice and milk. Could this be a contributing factor? — M.C.

No. And you could well develop other troubles by omitting fruit juices (or equivalent) and milk (or other sources of calcium). You still need calcium for your bones and other tissues.

Two Thought Drowned Four Others Saved

DELAFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Two persons were feared drowned late Sunday in a boating accident on Nagawauke Lake near this Waukesha County community.

Harry J. Swinford, 31, of Milwaukee and Richard D. Hoffer, 23, of Elm Grove vanished when a boat Hoffer was operating overturned about 50 feet from shore.

Four other persons in the small craft, all from the Milwaukee area, were rescued after clinging to the side of the boat for several minutes.

Witnesses said the craft began filling with water as Hoffer backed it away from a municipal boat launching facility. Wind made the water choppy, officials said.

Summer Parker, Neenah-Menasha GOP club vice-chairman, will be chairman for the luncheon. Assemblyman David O. Martin will introduce the governor.

Tickets for the luncheon are available from club members, including Dean Hewitt or Harold Van Dyke.

Town-City School Utility Spat Revived

MENASHA — The question of jurisdiction over sewer and water service at the Airport Road elementary school site arose again this morning in a hearing before a Wisconsin Public Service Commission examiner.

During the hearing in the city council chamber, Sanitary District No. 4 of the Township introduced evidence it claims proves that the school site, Nathan Calder Field and the proposed fire substation site, were annexed to the city after 1954.

The PSC, in a ruling issued in mid August has stated the city and water & light utility have the right and obligation to provide services since the site will also have a $1,420 travel expense.

Appleton Finance Committee Studies Employee Salaries

School Head Highest Paid Public Official

The superintendent of schools will continue to be Appleton's highest paid public official in 1967, proposed city-wide budget requests showed today.

All requests total $16.1 million, including $5.6 million by the board of education.

Statistical data on salaries is contained in municipal and school board budgets now being studied by the council's finance committee.

Supt. of Schools William Knuth, with a staff numbering more than 500 persons, is scheduled to receive $17,416 next year, an increase of $1,200.

Spears also will receive a $2,600 travel expense. He outranks Mayor George Buckley, whose salary by council action will be increased to $15,000, a hike of $1,000 over this year.

The third highest municipal employee will be William Knuth, who will get $13,043 in the coming year, a boost of about $950. He also will have a $1,420 travel expense.

Fourth-ranked on the municipal pal payroll is City Atty. David Greenen, the city's first full-time legal counsel, who will get $139,490 in the 1968 public school operating budget.

Salaries of other municipal officials include: city planner, $10,800; city assessor, $10,800; assistant public works director, $10,800; finance director, $10,300; city engineer, $9,900; police chief, $9,840; fire chief, $9,840; treasurer, $9,100; clerk, $9,100; public works division superintendents, $9,000 maximum.

When the city hires a public works director the pay range will be from $11,400 to $13,600. The previous director, Robert Bues, was drawing $13,000 after four years.

In the public school system there are several departments and specialists in charge of coordinating various programs, all with varying salaries.

Salaries of principals for Appleton's two senior high schools next year will be $12,006 at West and $11,074 at East.

Junior high principal salaries range from $10,080 at Wilson; $10,920 at Einstein; and $11,285 at Madison.

Elementary principals' salaries have a range of about $10,000 to $11,301 — five of the administrators to get more than $11,000.

While the council's personnel committee has been negotiating with various city employee groups, including unions and associations the board of education conducted negotiations to the general public. It has previously with the Appleton Education Association.

The association is affiliated with the Wisconsin Education Association and National Education Association. It was victorious in winning a representation election sometime ago over a local of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO.

After inquiring as to the public schools' salary setup, Mayor George Buckley received a full report from Supt. Spears.

Spears said the salary schedule for 1967-68 includes classroom teachers, supervisors, resource staff and administrators. Custodial employees were not mentioned.

He pointed out that if the present 1966-67 salary schedule continues to remain in effect, increases for the classroom teachers would range from nothing to $260.

With the board's approval of the 1967-68 salary schedule, the classroom salary increase will range from a minimum of $196 to a maximum of $400," Spears said. It was reported that adjust-

New Telephone Directories Set For Distribution

Company Announces New Listing on Emergency Page

New telephone directories will be delivered in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha and Hortonville this week according to an announcement from the Wisconsin Telephone Co. today.

Officials noted changes in the emergency page on the new directories.

Appleton's new directory will list a new number for the Town of Seymour fire department.

An alphabetical listing for Shiocion follows the yellow pages. Shiocion calls are now toll-free because of new extended services, officials said.

The Appleton directory will be brown instead of the customary blue, according to the announcement.

Other Listings

Listings for Combined Locks, Freedom, Greenville, Kaukauna, Kimberly, Little Chute and Neenah-Menasha are again incorporated in the Appleton listings. Separate listings for Black Creek, Dale, Medina, Hortonville and Sherwood follow the yellow pages.

Officials said listings for Clayton and Winchester fire departments are included in the Neenah-Menasha directory emergency page. A separate listing for Larsen follows the yellow pages.

The emergency page of the 1966 Hortonville directory lists a police department number for the Town of Dale. Medina and Dale numbers are incorporated in the directory with Hortonville, officials said.

Persons not receiving new directories by Oct. 24 may contact their business office.

streets here until 2 a.m. and 3 a.m. in the morning."

"There is absolutely no reason for this," Buckley said.

The mayor said he made a survey of other cities and the majority of public officials and law enforcement officers favored having a curfew ordinance on the books.

Not Shared

Several council members do not share the mayor's view at this time, especially Ayers.

Ayers submitted a resolution calling for a park curfew which would make it illegal for anyone to be in public parks after 9 p.m. any day of the week.

"I think we should start with the park curfew," Ayers said, "and if we have to, pass a citywide curfew as a last resort."

Ayers said he thought a fullscale curfew now would tend to "punish the majority for a small minority."

The curfew matter will now pass through committees and management positions in the should get to the council — one company's New York and Neenah or the other — within a matter of two to three weeks.

Anti-Riot Bills

Laird Joins Movement Against 'Mobocracy'

BY FRANCES MCKUSICK
Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Seventh District Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Marshfield, has joined a bipartisan group of House members who are determined to "put an end to organized mobocracy."

The result is that the House Judiciary Committee has been studying a group of bills, which Laird's is one, establishing penalties against those who incite to riot.

"The necessity for such legislation is clear to the citizens of Los Angeles, Chicago, Cleveland and other riot-torn communities which have experienced the law with a fine up to $10,000, or imprisonment up to five years," Laird said in an interview.

Agrees With Eisenhower

Agreeing with a recent statement by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower that Americans are "justifiably angry" at the growing disregard for law and order, Laird explained that special legislation was now needed to deal with the menace of riots.

"When we were considering the Civil Rights bill a short time ago, the House passed an anti-riot amendment on an overwhelming vote," he commented during an interview. "Failure of the Senate to approve similar legislation now makes it necessary that we take up the subject of riots in a separate bill."

Laird, chairman of the House Republican Conference, said the terms of his bill now before the Judiciary Committee would make violations punishable by law with a fine up to $10,000, or imprisonment up to five years or both.

Cope with Leaders

"It would also cope with those riot leaders who direct the riots through the use of interstate facilities such as the telephone but who do not take part personally in the riots themselves," Laird explained.

"It will give investigative authorities the power to cross state lines, and is needed as a federal law to bring action against riot leaders where state and local action is not forthcoming because of local political pressures. It definitely would be a deterrent against the present trend to rule by organized mobocracy," Laird said.

the communications media, we have found people are very interested in understanding their faith better."

For example, the ACU now publishes a newspaper called American Church News. It has recently doubled its circulation from the former magazine format and now has 29,000 subscribers among Episcopalians throughout the United States.

Bishop Du Bois does not think Christian unity is as far away as is generally thought and he agrees the Episcopalian position increases in importance as the process expands.

The only mergers completed by the Episcopalian church are in a Catholic direction, he explained. For example, the Polish National Catholic Church in Pulaski and Beaver Dam is now served by Episcopalian priests.

lectures, and conducting convert classes," Father Janssen said. Already, many are teaching the high school pupils in Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, he added.

Under the priestly functions Father Janssen included the lecturers on Sunday, the reading of the Epistle and the congregation's participation in reading the mass.

"All these things will be expanded," he said, "but they will need information which, in turn, will lead to more information, and in part we will try to provide this for the laymen during the course, he concluded.

Better Understanding

Communication, leading to a better understanding between parents and adolescents, will be the theme of the "Christianity and the Adolescent" sessions, presented in 10 parts by Brother Timothy Conrad, an instructor at Xavier High School.

"Because of the great number of changes occurring in the church, changes which have not been taught or explained to the parents — they have lost contact with their children, who are learning the new concepts," Brother Conrad said.

"It will, therefore, be the purpose of the course to try to seek out the problem the family is confronted with, and once the basic issues and causes are uncovered, we will turn our attention to solutions, many of which will be self-evident once the cause is found," the brother said.

Areas Covered

Some of the areas Brother Conrad plans to cover are, "How to Communicate with the children," and a sub-topic, how did the lack of communication begin.

"I feel there has always been a lack of communication between one generation and the next, but I think it's time we did something about it," Brother Conrad added.

He will also cover the topic of "Freedom and Responsibility," and "How Teen-ager's Consciences Are Formed Today."

Sources Used

Some of the sources the brother will use include literary and theological writings as well as art forms. His main guideline, he said, would be the life of Christ. "Which still has the best examples and applies to today, as it did when Christ was alive," he said.

According to the Rev. Patrick Smits, assistant pastor at St. Bernadette, and coordinator of this program, enrollment has been good but there still are openings.

English Students At Kimberly Will Present 2 Plays

KIMBERLY — Senior students at Kimberly High School will present two plays they are studying in the English literature classes this week, supplementing lectures by Miss Jennifer Gates and discussions with Mrs. Jane LaPin and Mrs. Virginia Van Susteren, instructors.

Team teaching is being utilized at the school this year and production of the plays is expected to give students a better insight into the literature of the era. "Everyman," considered to be the greatest of all morality plays, was written in the year 1500 and rewritten in dramatic form in the latter part of the 15th century. It has been produced often over the span of centuries by theaters, churches and schools.

"Gammer Gurton's Needle," the second performance, is a famous 16th century farce of unknown or at least disputed authorship. It provides a whimsical insight into the folk minds of the period.

Congressmen Find Viet Nam Not Big Issue in Campaign

Candidates Think Voters Show Concern, but Won't React at Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — With CBS television-radio program less than a month of campaigning, both parties are admitting privately they haven't found the Viet Nam war to be a congressional election issue.

Most candidates interrupting their campaigning to check in now and then for major Senate and House roll calls report the voters are disturbed about the ever-enlarging conflict and frustrated by the apparent failure of peace efforts.

But how the average citizen will react to this at the polls Nov. 8 remains largely a mystery. One Democratic senator, seeking re-election, seemed to voice the sentiment of many of his colleagues.

"I know the people wish we didn't have this war on our hands and wonder why we ever got into it," he said. "They'd like to have it end but not many of them want to cut and run. I think most of them believe President Johnson is doing the best he can."

Campaign Not Affected
"My opponent hasn't found any way yet to blame me for the war and as far as I can tell it isn't an issue that will affect many votes one way or the other."

Johnson told a Newark, N.J. political rally last Friday that Republicans "don't know how to end the war in Viet Nam, except to criticize the commander in chief." While they don't admit it publicly, GOP campaigners generally acknowledge that is a fairly accurate description of their position.

But Sen John C Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, says the United States may have to use tactical nuclear weapons if it finds itself "in a land-locked war with great hordes of men on the other side."

Tactical Weapons
"We may have to use tactical weapons under those circumstances, and I would, rather than see our armies cut to pieces and our men suffer undo loss," he said Sunday on the

Membership Policies

Eagles Talks in Jeopardy

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A professor mediating Milwaukee's civil rights disputes over the membership policies of a men's club says plans to settle the issue are in jeopardy.

Prof. Nathan Feinsinger said he wanted to meet today with Gov. Warren P. Knowles to "determine whether I will continue my efforts toward mediation" including a meeting Oct. 19 in New York City.

Feinsinger met Sunday with sponsors of Milwaukee civil rights demonstrations. After the session, he said hopes of settling the issues were being affected by "forces beyond my control."

The meeting with the Milwaukee Youth Council of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People was a result of a statement by D. D. Billings, national president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, that he would not attend Feinsinger's Oct. 19 meeting if representatives of the council were present.

Matters Complicated
The University of Wisconsin law professor said the meeting with NAACP leaders had not been cancelled, but that Billings' refusal to meet with council members "complicates matters and may destroy all the work done thus far."

The council plans to send three delegates to the session.

"The meeting is still on and we hope the Eagles are going to be there," said Nate Harwell, 22, a youth council spokesman.

"How else are we going to get the issue resolved if the Eagles are not there or we're not there?"

"We want no one to say that the NAACP would not go to the negotiating table. We're willing, we're willing to go," Harwell said.

Harwell would not comment on the meeting with Feinsinger except to say it was a briefing session.

Followed Demonstrations
Feinsinger was brought into the controversy early last month after nights of successive demonstrations by the council had forced Gov. Warren P. Knowles to call up the National Guard.

The council was demonstrating against membership by public officials in the whites - only Eagles.

After Feinsinger's intervention, the council agreed to call off picketing outside the homes of public officials until midnight Oct. 15.

Harwell declined to say whether there would be a resumption of demonstrations if no progress is made in the bargaining.

But, he said, the Eagles should "go to the table now and get it over with."

Red Chinese Reported Missing In New Delhi

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Sun Wei-kuo, a 25-year-old official working in the Communist Chinese Embassy information section, has been missing since Sept. 29, Peking embassy sources said today.

The informants said the embassy has lodged a complaint with the Indian Foreign Ministry but so far no trace has been found of the missing official.

"We suspect it is a political case," one Communist Chinese official said. He did not elaborate.

An Indian government spokesman would say only that a complaint was received from the Chinese and they are investigating.

Red Chinese Army Resisting Lin Leadership

Red Guards Boss Issues Orders to Follow Mao's Words

TOKYO (AP) — Red China indicated today that some of its army is still resisting Defense Minister Lin Biao's leadership, and a Hong Kong newspaper reported some of the Red Guards have criticized Lin.

Lin, boss of the Red Guards and No. 2 man to Chairman Mao Tse-tung, has issued new orders to the army to follow Mao's teachings, Peking's New China News Agency reported.

The instructions seemed to indicate that the army has not knuckled under to the Mao-Lin leadership and that Lin's position next to Mao has been questioned.

In Hong Kong, a pro-Nationalist Chinese newspaper reported that some of the young Red Guards put up posters in Peking accusing Lin of "stealing things to eat" when he was a child. "How could a thief lead a country?" The posters asked, according to the report in the Kung Sheung Daily News.

Political Consciousness
Lin's latest instructions to the armed forces to put the party and Mao in control were released by Hsiao Hua, director of the army's general political department, NCNA said.

"In fighting a war," he said, "our armed forces have always relied on people's political consciousness, on their courage, on the political factor."

Hsiao also said that Lin took charge of the party central committee military commission several years ago. The powerful commission, headed by Mao, wields party control over the armed forces.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower still insists "we must do whatever is necessary to win" fast in Viet Nam. But he calls it silly for anyone to conclude this means he favors U.S. use of nuclear weapons there.

The five-star general who led Allied forces to victory in Europe in World War II says it is an entirely different kind of war in Viet Nam — a guerrilla type which exposes friend and foe alike to any weapons used. Only President Johnson, Eisenhower adds, ultimately can call the signals on broad policy and grand strategy.

Eisenhower says his only advice is that it ought to be a strategy aimed at winning quickly and putting an end to loss of American lives.

This Is Silly
But to anyone who got the idea — and some did — that in recent remarks he was calling for or even suggesting use of nuclear weapons to achieve a swift victory, Eisenhower — in response to a quest for comment — has this to say:

"This is silly. How would you use nuclear weapons in Viet Nam? I ask. Do you have any idea?"

"Personally, I would say whatever the President finds out he must do, I shall not criticize."

Lin's latest instructions to the armed forces to put the party and Mao in control were released by Hsiao Hua, director of the army's general political department, NCNA said.

AMC Contract Rejected; No Strike Planned

MILWAUKEE (AP) — United Auto Workers officials say there are no immediate plans for a work stoppage despite members' rejection of a proposed settlement of grievances that caused a walkout last month at American Motors Corp.

With barely enough members of UAW Local 75 present for a quorum, the settlement proposal was rejected Saturday 622 - 553. Local president Herman Steffes said he was discouraged by the vote turnout, and said negotiations probably will resume.

Most of the 5,200 UAW members at American Motors' Milwaukee body plant were idled for nearly four days until agreeing to a work resumption Sept. 24. The unauthorized walkout forced layoffs of employees at the company's Kenosha assembly plant.

The walkout was caused by the disciplinary suspension of a union steward, but strikers said increased work loads were among complaints.

The union and the company reached the proposed settlement last week. Steffes had called it "the best agreement possible."

Tax Exemption for Churches Is Valid

Drug Expert Tells of Use In Industry

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fast-spinning wheels of today's industry are often oiled, a police narcotics specialist says, by workers who are hooked on illegal drugs.

The problem of illegal pep pills — used primarily by production line workers — "is not actually condoned so much as that backs are turned on it," said Sgt. F. E. Sweeney of the Vernon Police Department. Vernon, a Los Angeles suburb, has many industries.

Stopping the drug traffic — by arresting all those who use the drugs and those who sell them — would mean industrial firms would have to hire whole new shifts of employees, Sweeney said. That, he explained, is how deep the problem runs.

Sweeney addressed an industrial health conference Saturday.

The jail adjoins Hedrick's house and the men escaped while he was preparing to serve them breakfast.

FOND DU LAC (AP) — A shotgun left leaning against a fender discharged as it fell to the ground killing a Fond du Lac girl as she sat in a parked car Sunday.

Linda Marie Young, 18, was struck in the back by the 12-gauge weapon's blast which ripped through the rear of the front seat in which she was sitting.

She was with three companions on a hunting excursion. The car was parked beside Highway 23 west of Fond du Lac.

Orioles Win Crown

By MIKE RATHET
BALTIMORE (AP) — Outside Memorial Stadium, on one of the approaches to the ball park, a big, bold sign asks the question "Would you believe four straight?"

The sign belongs to the city of Baltimore and so does the World Series following the Orioles' amazing—and convincing—four-game sweep of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

McNally F. Robinson

But now a bigger question is being kicked around:

Did the Orioles, in holding the Dodgers scoreless for a record 33 consecutive innings while putting together the first American League sweep in 16 years, destroy the myth of National all-League superiority?

Strangely enough, Frank Robinson, the guy who did the most to destroy the National League upset, "but when we got down representatives, thinks not."

"I believed that when I was in the National League," said Robinson.

Mira-Led San Francisco Deals Packers First Loss

49ers Capitalize on Fumble And Interception to Gain Initial Win of Year, 21-20

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service
SAN FRANCISCO — The Green Bay Packers suffered a double disappointment in Kezar Stadium Sunday ... not counting the bitter 21-20 defeat at the hands of the 49ers.

They (1) couldn't score from nine yards out and, with 6:57 left in the game, (2) couldn't get the ball back until the last 30 seconds.

Some scribe once wrote that making a mistake against the Packers is like getting nipped by a rattlesnake. The 49ers committed the cardinal error — an interception by Dave Robinson whose 23-yard runback left Green Bay so close to victory ... and yet so far.

The Packers couldn't make it touchdownwise but they had one last chance — a field goal by Don Chandler from the 49er 36-yard line. But the kick was wide — by a couple of feet.

The Packers, instead of the 49ers, were snake-bit.

Tightens Race

The loss, along with the Bears' whipping of Baltimore, tightened up the Western Division race. Green Bay now is tied with Los Angeles, each with 4-1, while the Bears and Colts are next with two losses each. The Packers next face the Bears in Chicago.

The Packers took a 3-0 lead, they dug themselves into a 14-3 hole and then screamed back to make it 14-10 and 14-13. The 49ers stepped away again, 21-13, but Green Bay came back with a case, setting it at 21-20 with 3:33 left in the fourth quarter — on Bart Starr's 38-yard TD pass to Carroll Dale.

That's where the frustration set in as the 49ers set about protecting that 1-point lead. On their third play Robinson intercepted George Mira's pass and the Packers dug in for the kill.

Here are the five plays that killed the Pack:

- 1—Elijah Pitts hit right tackle for three yards.
- 2—Jim Taylor lost a yard at left tackle.
- 3—Starr was wide and high on a pass to Boyd Dowler in the left corner of the end zone, but Dowler was called for offensive interference on Kermit Alexander. That put it back on the 22, with another third down.

Moore Scores 2 Touchdowns; Rams Tip Lions

DETROIT (AP) — Roman Gabriel's passing and the spinning runs of Dick Bass lifted the Los Angeles Rams to a 14-7 National Football League victory over the Detroit Lions Sunday.

The Rams stopped all but one case, setting it at 21-20 with 3:33 left in the fourth quarter — on Bart Starr's 38-yard TD pass to Carroll Dale.

Detroit scored as the final period opened with a 76-yard drive in 15 plays. Nowatzke gained 36 of the yards in seven carries scoring on a three-yard run. The big gainer was a 23-yard pass from quarterback Plummer which Pat Studstill snared in a circus catch at the Ram 37.

An exchange of pass interceptions in the final minutes blunted one Lion drive, and gave Detroit another chance. Plummer hit Studstill on the Ram 20 for a 22-yard gain, but an interception by Clancy Williams closed the game.

Baltimore Celebration Turns Into Near Riot; Special Police Called

BALTIMORE (AP) — Police crowds estimated at from 10,000 called in their special crowd to 12,000 jammed the street control units. K-9 corps members from curb to curb.

Open Hydrant Several enthusiasts — celebrating the Orioles' World Series victory — opened a fire hydrant, then proceeded to deflect its stream into the crowd, which roared its approval.

Beer cars were hurled at random and bar patrons of the area, noted for its strip shows, were inside only long enough to buy another round to take out.

Twisters deserted their dimly lit haunts for the sidewalks and, as one habitue put it, "I haven't seen anything like it since V-J Day."

Drivers left their cars at traffic lights to join those snake dancing through the streets and at one corner a pair of drunks with Los Angeles Dodger pennants held each other up while trying to harmonize on "There's No Tomorrow."

Traffic Jams Caravans of automobiles wound through the downtown streets bedecked with orange and black crepe paper while policemen, many of them called in on extra duty, tried vainly to clear traffic jams which had cars backed up as much as 1 1/2 miles on some main arteries.

By 8 p.m., EDT, vendors still hawked their Oriole banners and World Series souvenirs which suddenly had become more valuable than tickets to the fifth game.

Along 33rd Street and Greenmount Avenue in the Memorial Stadium area, thousands of celebrants still roamed the streets hours after the final game had ended.

Shredded newspaper floated down from hotel windows like snow in the business district and the exploding fireworks added to the Mardi Gras-type mood.

Homemade Placard "How Sweet It Is," proudly proclaimed one homemade placard borne aloft by youths riding in an open convertible.

Mayor Theodore R. McKeldin, in Salt Lake City, Utah, on a speaking engagement, sent a telegram of congratulations to Manager Hank Bauer and "ev'ry member of the world's best into the left-field stands for a two-run homer, and the Orioles were headed toward a first-of game victory."

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Temple won 82-28. No, it wasn't a basketball game—it was a football game.

"We have a pro offense, and we had to follow the game plan and throw the ball," was the way Coach George Mankins explained Temple's unbelievable 82-28 victory over Bucknell Saturday.

Did the fact that Bucknell won 12 straight years over Temple have anything to do with the slaughter?

No, Mankins added, there was no grudge involved—just a matter of following a game plan.

But no matter what the motive, Temple's 62-point outburst was one of the most humiliating defeats for any team in the history of college football.

Temple was involved in another rout, when in 1927 it blasted diminutive Blue Ridge College by a tally 110-0.

But that's still not the college record. Hold on to your collective records — Georgia Tech slugged tiny Cumberland University of Lebanon, Tenn., 222-0, on Oct. 7, 1916.

Frank Robinson Proves To be 'Big Man' Again

By MURRAY CHASS

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Robinson, baseball's first Triple Crown winner in a decade, day and wrapped up a 1-0 victory over the Dodgers and a fouring, waiting for his turn in the batting cage and talking about the World Series that would through for the Orioles the way the "big man" had. He led them

"The big men know the other team is concentrating on them, and they feel the pressure more; they try too hard," the Baltimore superstar said in reply to a question about picking a Series hero.

"The little fellows don't get as much fanfare, and they go out that's ever happened to me," said the 31-year-old outfielder. "I feel I got to get some hits and drive in some runs. The team expects it."

Homers Twice The next day, in his first time at bat at Los Angeles, Robinson drilled a Don Drysdale pitch into the left-field stands for a two-run homer, and the Orioles were headed toward a first-of game victory.

Proved Point "And I wanted to show the people, the officials and the city of Baltimore they were getting a guy who still could play baseball."

"Now it's all gone. Next year I don't have to show Mr. DeWitt (the Cincinnati owner). I don't have to show him what I can do again. As far as that's concerned, it's gone."

When the Reds traded Robinson, a 10-year veteran, to Baltimore for pitchers Milt Pappas and Jack Baldschun and outfielder Dick Simpson, Bill DeWitt justified the trade to shocked and angered Cincinnati fans by saying Robinson was getting old.

Cardinals' Second-Half Surge Tips Giants, 24-19

By ROBERT SHAW

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals might be hard pass and turned the ball over to their fans, but they're tough on their opponents.

When the Cardinals scored all their points in the last two quarters Sunday for a 24-19 National Football League victory over the New York Giants, it marked the fourth time in five games this season they have come from behind in the last half.

While such heroics have provided the Cardinal faithful with some anxious moments, they also have given St. Louis a 5-0 record, best in the Eastern Division.

Coach Charley Winner is at a loss to explain it. "You tell me," he said, "maybe we'll change something. But I'd rather have a bad first half and a good second one than two bad ones."

The Cardinals' good half at most wasn't enough against the Giants' who led 13-0 at halftime and 19-14 with about four minutes to play. Then Jerry St.

ST. LOUIS moved to the 24, but a penalty and a loss gave them a fourth down at the Giant 30. Football League victory over the New York Giants, it marked the fourth time in five games this season they have come from behind in the last half.

He dashed pell-mell into the end zone with the winning points with 3:12 to play, although Jim Bakken added a 36-yard field goal to the Cardinal total in the last minute.

"We were fortunate, very fortunate," Winner said. "I personally feel we weren't as ready mentally as we oughta been. New York played well enough to win, and the oddsmakers said we're 22 points better."

"I knew all week long that they had a better club than that. They kept fighting."

The Giants dominated the first half, scoring on Morrall's nine-yard pass to Homer Jones and on field goals of 32 and 37 yards by Pete Gogolak, who crushed Stout 28-21, and Stevens also kicked two 47-yard field goals in the second half.

St. Louis ran only five offensive plays before halftime, by touchdown passes among four giving up the ball twice on interceptions as Whitewater gained 270 yards on the ground and 71 in the air. The victors led 42-0 at the half.

Halfback Jim Baier covered in 133 yards in 25 carries and scored two touchdowns for River Falls. He scored on a 34-yard drive with the second half yard pass from quarterback Bobby Joe Conrad for a touch-down in the last quarter.

Whitewater overwhelmed Superior 55 - 7 as River Falls plunged.

But rookie running back John Roland got the Cardinals back in the game, plunging two yards for a touchdown to climax a 69-yard rolled over underdog Green Bay in the Hawks' first experience on Wisconsin ice.

Meredith Comes Alive After Frustrations

DALLAS (AP) — Don Meredith, who sings hillbilly music, gave them his very nice voice on television. The tall, handsome, 28-year-old Meredith, is about as severe in his own criticism as the fans. Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys says he made it long before but just now is getting credit for it.

"Mainly, I guess, it's because that I haven't been making the same mistake twice," said the coach.

Meredith right now not only is sparking the Cowboys along the unbeaten trail in the National Football League but is on the way to a NFL record.

He has 14 touchdown passes in four games and if he maintains his pace will break the NFL record of 36 touchdown passes set by Y. A. Tittle of New York in 1963. Meredith has 10 more games to go and his average is 3.3 touchdown passes per game.

He already holds the league record for the fewest interceptions for passers throwing more than 1,000 times. Meredith has lost 71 passes that way in his career of more than six seasons. He currently has thrown 151 consecutive passes without an interception.

Controversial Meredith has been a man of controversy since he came into the NFL. He was the first player signed by Dallas in 1960 when it became a member.

There have been more boos than cheers for Dandy Don, the former Southern Methodist University star for whom the fans facetiously named the school Southern Meredith University.

Last year Meredith was benched by Coach Landry when his passing fell off. Landry didn't know it but an arm injury was the main reason. But Meredith got back in good standing as Dallas started down the last half of the schedule and he led them to the Ruppert Bowl.

This season he has been a sensation, twice throwing for five touchdowns in a single game although playing only three quarters, and running the team like a machine under the approving eyes of his greatest backer—Landry.

Meredith has played football in Dallas for 11 years—four at SMU and seven with the Cowboys—and he has become an institution here.

The folks like him when he appears on television or radio or acts in a play although they reserve the right to criticize him.

"But I don't get as much criticism there as I do in football," he adds, a little proudly.

Meredith already has brought out a local recording Traveling Man which is going pretty good and he recently signed with Dot

Cowboys Crush Eagles, 56-7

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys crumbled the Philadelphia Eagles 56-7 Sunday to remain as the top scoring team of the National Football League.

It was the second time for Meredith to perform this feat within three weeks—he passed for five against the New York Giants Sept. 18.

"A coach dreams of the day when both the offense and defense hit their peak at the same time," said Landry. "Sunday they did and the result was indeed wonderful."

The Dallas defense allowed Philadelphia only 217 yards to total offense. There wasn't a fumble or a pass interception as the Dallas offense romped to 632 yards, making more on the ground than Philadelphia did in all rushing and passing.

Also, another running back of Dial, Petus Norman, Pete Gent great promise showed up. Now and Reeves make up a crack Landry, who had said the re-corporate indeed. Even Perkins is son for Dallas not doing any good at it.

Dale and for 43 yards to Paul Hornung, both for touchdowns. Defensive coach Phil Bengtson, a former 49er assistant, said George Mira at quarterback was the key for San Francisco.

Mira completed nine of 21 World Series because of recurring elbow trouble, starting 27 - yard and eight - yard touchdowns to the halfback John David Crow. He also ran 38 yards to Green Bay's eight setting up a touchdown which proved to be the game's turning point.

Turning Point Mira carried three times for 46 yards, and repeatedly stepped out of the way of the Packers' moves to get him.

"If he had stayed in the pocket, we would have been all right," Bengtson said. "The two times he got out of it, he killed us."

"It felt great to run," Mira said. The Packers got to Mira occasionally. He left the game twice as both a reliever and starter feeling groggy, and slightly injured an arm in the final period trying to tackle Dave Robinson, 22. John Miller, 25, Gene Brabender, 25.

Joining the team next year will be 24-year-old Tom Phoebe, who hurried two consecutive shutouts late in the season after being recalled from the minor leagues. Ed Barnowski, an 18-year-old game winner at Rochester this season, is 23.

In 1960, when the Orioles made their first bid for a pennant, a young pitching staff of take advantage of them.

Mill Pappas, Jerry Walker, Jack Fisher, Chuck Estrada and Christiansen said Mira "gave us Barber was nicknamed the Kid-die Korps."

The ailing Barber is the only member remaining. The other four were either traded or sent to the minors with sore arms.

If he returns healthy in 1967, Barber will be the dean of the starters at age 26.

State 54 at Outagamie County Trunk PP, two miles east of Black Creek. Merkley was Outagamie County's 16th fatality of the year compared to 20 at this time last year.

Killed Instantly

He was killed almost instantly when the car driven by his wife, Agnes, 70, crossed 54 and was struck broadside by a car driven by George Matuszak, 59, 3225 W. Mason St., Green Bay. Mrs. Merkley, Matuszak and his wife, Hertha, 58, were rushed to St. Vincent Hospital, Green Bay.

Mrs. Merkley reportedly suffered a fractured collarbone, right hip and a back injury. The Matuszaks were treated for cuts, bruises and abrasions.

Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps said Merkley died of internal hemorrhage due to crushing chest and abdominal injuries. Merkley was thrown from the vehicle by the impact. He was pronounced dead at 11:20 a.m.

Going North

Outagamie County Traffic Police Lt. Lowell Veitch and Patrolman Edward Metko investigated the accident and said the Merkley auto was going north on PP. Matuszak told police he was driving west on 54 at the time of the crash.

Traffic reports quoted Matuszak as saying the Merkley car did not stop for the arterial on PP and crossed 54. Matuszak said he applied his brakes but could not avoid the accident. Both cars came to rest on the northwest corner of the intersection.

A door on the passenger's side of the Merkley auto was torn loose and several highway signs were flattened by the accident. Both cars were demolished.

The body was taken to Seefeld Funeral Home, Oshkosh.

Mrs. Bernard Allen, 45, of rural Irma, was killed Sunday night when a horse landed on top of her car after the vehicle struck the animal on Lincoln County Trunk H near Irma. Her 14-year-old child, Beryl, suffered cuts and bruises.

Art Hehling, 53, of Merrill, was injured fatally Sunday night when he was struck by a car or Highway 64 near the Merrill city limits. He died at a hospital several hours after the accident.

Mrs. Lois Lott, 44, of Rt. 1, Caledonia, was injured fatally Sunday night in a one car collision on Highway 36, just west of North Wind Lake road in Racine County. Authorities said the car went out of control after a tire blew, left the highway and struck a bridge abutment.

A pair of two-car crashes in Polk County claimed four lives. Howard Nielsen, 57, of St. Paul, Minn., and Harold Carlson, 49, of rural Siren died Sunday when their cars collided at a highway intersection in the Town of Centuria.

Mrs. Dawn Oppergard, 24, of Regina, Sask., and her 3-week-old daughter, Kristan, were injured fatally in a two-car crash Saturday near Amery in Polk County.

A car struck and killed Michael Lieven, 18, of Hartford as he walked along Highway 60 west of Hartford Sunday.

Child Killed

Edward Sylvester, 2, playing with companions beside a highway near his rural Galesville home in Trempealeau County, was killed Sunday when he ran into the side of a car.

Michael J. Tesar, 17, West Bend, died Sunday in a two-car collision at a U.S. 45 intersection near Barnumwood, Shawano County.

A two-car crash Sunday at a Highway 54 intersection in Outagamie County injured three persons and claimed the life of another. Robert R. Merkley, 73, of rural Black Creek.

Ernest C. Bremser, 22, of Port Washington died Saturday night when his car crashed beside a Sheboygan County road near Cedar Grove.

Dale R. Casteel, 18, Kenosha, was injured fatally when his motorcycle collided with a car at a Kenosha intersection Saturday.

2-Car Accident

A two-car crash at a Walworth County highway intersection near Lake Geneva late Saturday claimed the life of Mrs. Edith Hintz, 68, of rural Walworth.

Ginny J. Gierman, 7, of Waukesha died in a car driven by her mother when the vehicle collided with another car at a Waukesha County intersection Saturday.

Daniel D. Merrill, 18, of Rice Lake was killed when a car in which he and some companions were riding Friday night struck a piece of construction equipment parked beside Highway 53 near Blair in Trempealeau County.

Harold Kapping, 47, Ellsworth, was injured fatally when struck by a car Friday night in Ellsworth. He died Saturday in a Red Wing, Minn., hospital.

George Will, 51, Milwaukee died in a two-car crash Saturday at a Milwaukee intersection.

Appleton Police

Total 70, Not 700

Due to an error, a story Sunday dealing with riot control training in the Fox Valley quoted Appleton Police Chief Earl O. Wolf as saying that if there were 500 to 600 people on a rampage, "even if we had 700 men out, we certainly wouldn't be on the offensive."

Actually, Wolf was referring to the 70 policemen comprising his department.

Your Money's Worth

Don't Buy Stocks If You Can't Afford Risk

BY SYLVIA PORTER

You're a man in your 40s with a young family, a good-paying job and you're now accumulating extra savings. Should you buy stocks at today's prices and if so, what types of stocks? Or you're a widow in your early 30s and you've just received your husband's life insurance. How should you invest this precious nestegg?

Or you're a man in your 30s, single and saving money. . . . Or you're a career woman in your late 30s, also single and worry-price deludes does to some extent help to provide a "cushion" under the market.

Bonds Attractive

(4) The upsurge in interest rates has made high-grade bonds the most attractive investmentmen's they've been in more than a quarter-century.

(5) The very long-term trend of stock prices is upward and since the close of the last century, the rise has averaged 3 per cent a year.

(6) You should not buy stocks at all unless you recognize there are always risks in stock ownership. You are investing money you do not need for regular living expenses. You have a specific investment goal suited to your needs and are ready to stick to it until your circumstances change; you have the emotional temperament to own stocks. You will not act on the basis of tips and rumors.

(7) Commonplace mistakes made by new investors (which you should vow to avoid) are: expecting too much too soon; not telling the full truth about your financial position and your aims to your broker; shrugging off your broker's experience and skill.

(8) While you should seek and take advantage of the best investment advice available, you must make the final decision. It's your money and your responsibility. And once you own stocks, it's your continuing responsibility to read your company's reports, to keep track of any of its offers of rights to buy additional shares, to check the calibre of your company's management.

These are just a few of the fundamentals on which the columns to follow will elaborate. Tomorrow You're in your 40s, are accumulating extra savings. Should you buy stocks at today's prices?

Says No Proof Sukarno Took Part in Coup

Indonesian Foreign
Minister Outlines
Position of President

TOKYO (AP) — Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik said today he knew of no proof that President Sukarno was involved in the abortive Communist coup attempt in Indonesia last year.

However, he noted that Sukarno's name has been mentioned in testimony at the trial in Jakarta of former Foreign Minister Subandrio and said the judiciary would investigate those references.

Speaking at the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan, Malik said if Sukarno's involvement in the coup attempt is established "or that he ever was at fault, the People's Consultative Assembly will ask for his explanation."

Involved in Coup
Subandrio, accused of being involved in the October 1965 coup attempt, is now on trial on charges of treason, subversion and corruption.

Sukarno's name has cropped up frequently in testimony concerning Communist party activities in Indonesia, but there has been no direct accusation against him. He said in a statement read at the trial that he had no knowledge of the planned coup.

Malik, in Tokyo on a global tour to explain the policies of the new Indonesian government, also clarified Sukarno's role in the government.

Subordinate Position
He said the president's position is now subordinate to the People's Consultative Assembly, headed by Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, and that anything Sukarno says in contradiction to the assembly "of course cannot be implemented."

"The government is trying to return the position of the president to that of the constitution and to the decisions of the assembly," he said. Then he added: "Of course, the president himself has the right to resign if he feels he does not want to continue."

Migrants in Third Day Of Picketing

ALMOND (AP) — Migrant farm workers picketed a potato warehouse firm Sunday for a third consecutive day demanding the firm recognize their union as a bargaining agent.

About a dozen persons picketed Sunday. They were led by Jesus Salas, a college student who helped lead a workers' march from Wautoma to Madison in August.

James L. Burns & Sons Co. is being asked by Salas to recognize Obreros Unidos, a union which he says has the support of the AFL-CIO.

The warehouse company said calling up three appropriation most of its 150 workers are not represented by the union.

Relations Slightly Better

Johnson, Gromyko to Meet in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko late today amid a scent of slight improvement in U. S.-Soviet relations.

U. S. sources cautioned against any great expectations from the White House session, which was in the nature of a courtesy visit since Gromyko is in this country attending the U.N. General Assembly fall session.

But the mere fact of a Gromyko trip to Washington was a step above the icy atmosphere that set in with the massive U. S. military involvement in Viet Nam in 1965.

A year ago Gromyko stayed away from the U. S. capital, though he went to New York as usual for the annual U.N. opening and had stopped at the White House in previous years.

The Kremlin still supports North Viet Nam against what it terms American aggression, and it has served notice it will not move for peace talks until Hanoi wants them. Gromyko spurned another peace bid in New York Saturday, which had been presented by British Foreign Secretary George Brown.

What appears new is a Soviet interest in possible deals with the West on matters other than Viet Nam. And a major reason for this, in the opinion of U. S. analysts, is that Communist China's Red Guard convulsion has heavily damaged Peking in her rivalry with the Soviet Union for leadership of the Communist camp.

According to this theory, Moscow is now so far ahead in the Sino-Soviet contest that the Kremlin feels freer to pursue its own foreign policy ends regardless of Chinese charges of Soviet collusion with the United States.

Cloture Vote Today

Threaten Filibuster On D.C. Home Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate was to vote today on a motion to block a threatened filibuster against a proposal to give home rule to the District of Columbia.

The cloture motion needs a two-thirds majority of those voting. And opponents predicted its failure — particularly because a filibuster had not even begun.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, in calling for today's cloture vote, said prolonged dispute over home rule "would snuff out the last flicker of hope for an October adjournment" of the 89th Congress. Leaders still hope for adjournment, by the end of next week.

Home rule, which has racial overtones because the nation's capital is 63 per cent Negro, has been strongly opposed by Southern senators.

The district now is governed by Congress and by three commissioners appointed by the President.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., offered the home rule proposal Friday as an amendment to a $4.4-billion bill that would extend the Higher Education Act for three years. Morse's amendment would provide a district government with an elected mayor and an elected city council.

Other Bills Wait
Action on several major bills must await the outcome of the home rule test.

One of those requiring such action is the college aid bill, which the Senate is expected to pass speedily once it comes up. That would clear the way for legislation calling up three appropriation bills and important tax legislation.

The House has scheduled action on some minor, but fiercely contested bills before taking up the last major piece of President Johnson's legislature program: A far-ranging housing bill authorizing money to rebuild whole sections of cities. The Senate passed it earlier in the session.

One minor bill would establish an 11,000-acre national park in the Indiana dunes along the south shore of Lake Michigan. It has been caught in controversy for years.

Bound for Boston

Another Misguided Traveler in London

CHELMSFORD, Mass. (AP) — London has become a stopover point for trips from Chicago to Los Angeles and Los Angeles to Boston — at least for two passengers who passed through Chicago's O'Hare International Airport.

Fred Hildreth, one of the passengers, says his unscheduled flight to Shannon, Ireland, and London was "quite a colorful experience — I saw the Irish countryside."

Hildreth, 26, assistant to the sales manager of a safety equipment manufacturing firm in Glendale, Calif., boarded Trans World Airlines Flight 770 in Los Angeles Saturday, expecting to reach Boston in six hours.

30-Hour Trip
He arrived in Boston Sunday night, 30 hours later. His trip included landing at Shannon due to fog over London, and a 2½-hour wait in London terminal because he had no passport to leave.

He said that when he got off TWA 770 in Chicago and went

U.S. Reinforces Buffer Zone; McNamara Arrives in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States moved heavy reinforcements up to the embattled demilitarized zone today as B52 bombers raided North Vietnamese infiltration routes just above the buffer area.

Simultaneously, U.S. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara arrived in Saigon for a four-day visit to the battlefronts and a survey of the men and money needed for the war.

U.S. military headquarters announced that the two Marine divisions already in the northern provinces were moved closer to the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone which separates North and South Viet Nam.

Reinforcement Massed
A battalion of the 173rd Airborne Brigade was moved to Da Nang to reinforce the Leathernecks. It was the first time in the war that U.S. Army troops were deployed in the northern provinces.

U.S. reinforcements were massed in the north to help stem the mounting influx of North Vietnamese forces into South Viet Nam and to bolster the allied forces against an expected major Communist offensive.

Heavy fighting has been in progress just south of the demilitarized zone almost continuously since mid-July. In the last nine weeks, the Leathernecks have killed 1,071 North Vietnamese regulars — the equivalent of two battalions, the count to 1,071. U.S. headquarters said.

Formations of B52s struck at dawn just north of the demilitarized zone, pounding a base camp and bivouac and supply areas used by the North Vietnamese infiltrating into South Viet Nam.

Fly 12 Missions
Inside the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone itself, U.S. Marine and Air Force planes flew 12 missions Sunday, hitting at North Vietnamese positions west of coastal highway No. 1.

McNamara, visiting Viet Nam for the eighth time, noted that U.S. forces here had nearly doubled since his last visit a year ago. There were 170,000 U.S. servicemen here then. There are 321,500 now and the total is expected to grow to 350,000 to 400,000 by the end of the year.

"We do not intend to destroy the Communist regime in North Viet Nam," McNamara said in a brief airport statement. He said the American objective remained the same — to enable the South Vietnamese government to act without fear of pressure from the North.

No Ground Forces
He said U.S. ground forces would not occupy the six-mile-wide demilitarized zone between North and South Viet Nam even

On Saturday North Viet Nam and the Soviet Union rejected the plan put forward by British Foreign Secretary George Brown last week. The plan called for the Viet Cong to be present at any peace talks.

The Viet Cong commentary did not name the Pope but it referred to the mission he sent to Saigon last week.

Archbishop Sergio Pignedoli, head of the papal mission, returned to the Vatican Sunday and expressed satisfaction with his trip. He said contact with leaders of various religions in South Viet Nam "has convinced me that there is a common denominator on which to build mutual understanding and collaborate for the good of the country."

Negroes in Florida Disarm Policeman, Arrested in Fracas

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Warning shots were fired in the air and three Negroes were arrested after a crowd of them disarmed two policemen who tried to break up a fight.

Police said two white officers, W. L. Howell and G. R. Stroud, were surrounded Sunday by about 300 Negroes who took their guns, nightsticks and portable two-way radio.

Reinforcements dispersed the mob. Stroud was treated for head injuries at a hospital and released.

Remains Unpredictable

Inez Misses Texas, Heads for Mexico

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Inez slashed the Mexican Coast north of Tampico today and headed inland on a course that may spare South Texas and its multimillion-dollar citrus crop.

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans reported that Tampico, a city of 200,000 population, had wind gusts of 90 miles an hour. A portion of the 17-day-old storm, which has taken at least 150 lives since developing out in the Caribbean, moved over the Mexican Coast, the Weather Bureau said.

Moving West
It added in a 6 a.m. EDT advisory that the 30-mile-wide eye of the storm was expected to go inland this morning 25 to 100 miles north of Tampico and 150 to 225 miles south of Brownsville, near the villages of Morpico and Nuevo in the state of Tamaulipas.

The dangerous hurricane was located by Brownsville radar about 195 miles south of Brownsville. Inez was moving westward at six miles per hour.

It was the second recent hurricane to change in course for the hurricane crop was destroyed.

cane. Early today Inez swung to a more westerly path and headed toward the Tampico area.

Changed Course
About 24 hours earlier it had deserted a similar course and pointed its 135-mile-per-hour winds toward the South Texas coast.

The Weather Bureau said Inez' present course would put wind gusts of 90 miles an hour in the Texas-Mexico border, out of 150 lives since developing out in the Caribbean, moved over the Mexican Coast, the Weather Bureau said.

Discuss Referendum

The Nov. 8 referendum on the attachment of about 1,850 acres of land from the Bear Creek School District to the local gun shot wound in his left leg late Sunday morning while squirrel hunting on a Town of Lind farm, southwest of here. The youth was taken to Waupaca Riverside Hospital, where he is in satisfactory condition. The 22 caliber slug struck Schmies' leg about six inches above the ankle where it shattered when it struck a bone. No attempt has been made to remove the shattered bullet. The bullet was fired from a rifle carried by Robert Starks Jr., 17, Milwaukee, a cousin of the Schmies youth. Starks told Sheriff Loran Frazier he had shot at a chipmunk and was attempting to put the "safety" on when the rifle accidentally discharged and the bullet struck Schmies, who was standing nearby.

According to authorities, Starks ran about a quarter mile to a farm, where he found no one home, and then to a road, where he stopped a truck driven by Roy West, route 3, Waupaca. After notifying authorities, West and Starks returned to the scene of the shooting and carried Schmies from the woods.

While waiting for help, Schmies tore a sleeve from his sweatshirt to use as a tourniquet on the bleeding leg. Schmies is a senior at Weyauwega High School and a member of the school's football team.

New London Boy Breaks Leg in Car-Bike Crash

NEW LONDON — Mark A. Resch, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Resch, route 1, sustained a broken right leg in a car-bicycle accident at 1:45 p.m. Sunday on Dey Road, two miles south of here. The youngster underwent surgery at Community Hospital Sunday and was reported in good condition today. A car driven by Ronald A. Wege, 17, 1009 Neenah St., was traveling west on the town road when the Resch youngster, who was going east, swerved into the center of the road. Waupaca County traffic authorities said. The driver of the car veered to the left but was unable to miss the bicycle, hitting it with the right side of the car. The car left skid marks of about 84 feet, authorities said.

Town Seeks Court Powers For Constable

Kampo, Weyenberg Receive Support From Committee

OSHKOSH — The Town of Menasha Friday took the first step toward providing its own police protection by getting the backing of the county sheriff's and coroner's committee on bringing traffic offenders arrested by its town constable into municipal court.

Roland Kampo, town chairman and Robert Weyenberg, constable, appeared before the committee Friday night to ask its backing for authorization to take traffic offenders into court. Until now Weyenberg has had the authority to arrest town ordinance violators but has had no court for prosecution.

Committee chairman Elmer Steinhilber, Oshkosh, said the committee would back the towns request pending an opinion on the move from county corporation counsel, Gerald Engeldinger.

Kampo explained that with the recent 40 per cent population increase, that enforcement of the town's 25 mile an hour speed limit would have to be started.

He said the county was doing the best it could with the available men but one man was just not enough and he wanted Weyenberg to have the authority to bring offenders into court.

Kampo also indicated that the town would be purchasing a radar unit for stricter enforcement of its speeding ordinances.

Branch 3 Action In the event that Weyenberg is granted the authority to bring offenders into court it would be to County Court Branch 3 which is Judge James V. Sitter's court which convenes in Neenah every Wednesday.

The county force is scheduled to get four more men Jan. 1, but even with this increased protection enforcement would not be adequate, Kampo said.

"I'm not trying to say that we don't want the county to patrol our town," Kampo said, "but we think that if our constable would have a court to take offenders to, our residents could have more protection."

Entry to the store was gained by prying open a basement door at the rear of the building, authorities said.

The firearms and ammunition were displayed on racks near the front of the store. Authorities said the person or persons who entered the building apparently did so with the intent to take only the firearms and ammunition because nothing else was taken, including a few dollars which had been left in the cash register.

Only three firearms were left in the store, authorities said.

A list of the firearms' serial numbers has been circulated to all state law enforcement agencies, authorities said.

Chilton Girl Hospitalized

CHILTON — Margaret A. Berrens, 17, 21 E. Grand St., was hospitalized with cuts and bruises after she lost control of the car she was driving and struck a parked car in the 300 block on E. Main Street at 6:50 p.m., Sunday.

According to city police, an estimated $4,000 damage resulted when the Berrens vehicle went out of control and struck a parked car owned by Eugene J. Schneider, 47 Chestnut St., which in turn was forced into another parked car owned by George Yerkman, 131 Reed St., which was pushed into a vehicle owned by Fredrick Longrie, route 4.

Miss Berrens was taken to Calumet Memorial Hospital by Pfeiffer Ambulance where she was reported in good condition this morning.

Chilton High Reports Openings In Night Classes

CHILTON — A total of 118 persons enrolled in evening vocational school courses at Chilton High School, and all classes still are open, reports James Skarda, director.

Information is available from Skarda at the high school.

Methodist Bishop Leads Clintonville Conference

CLINTONVILLE — The Most Reverend Bishop Alton Madison, bishop for the Wisconsin area of the Methodist Church, was featured speaker Sunday afternoon at the Green Bay District Conference at First Methodist Church.

Nearly 200 persons from 62 churches heard his address. "Where Aren't We Christian?" Theme of the conference was "Where in Jesus' Name Are We Serving?" with the first segment covering "... in our personal lives." Bishop Alton spoke after the conference was opened by the Rev. L. Clarence Kelley, Green Bay district superintendent.

Meaning of Christian Bishop Alton said the word "Christian" has two primary meanings, as a noun and as an adjective, and we are aspiring to realize both objectives. He pointed out it is a great challenge to be a Christian in the changing world of today, and we need to be growing Christians, otherwise we are obsolete Christians. In order to have a relevant gospel, we must be involved in Christian ministry.

The second part of the theme, "... in the Green Bay District," included the offering for district activities, introduction for new ministers and their wives, a report on the commission workshops, "Tale of Two Night Women's League action Churches," and world service at Berndt's Bowl.

Panel Discussion The last portion, "... in Latin America," was presented by Gary Fritz, missionary to Bolivia, on "Bolivian Echoes." This was followed by a panel discussion on "Advance Information," with Marlin Smith, district missionary secretary as moderator, and Fritz, the Rev. and Fred Thomas, pastor at Oneida Methodist Church, and Gerald Krause, associate secretary, in-

Out-of-Doors Experts Plan Menominee Nature Trail

BY BETTY DUCKLOW

It was a beautiful Indian summer weekend. The sun was hot, the pine shade cool when a dozen men, all experts in the field of out-of-doors, gave up three days — donated them — to capture a tiny corner of beauty for this . . . and future generations.

Most everyone has heard of the beauty of the Wolf River region, but not everyone has been able to see the truly fantastic natural wonderland that lies unsuitied in Menominee County.

This is where they went — these 12 men under the leadership of Dr. Jake Shapiro, University of Wisconsin, Oshkosh, who has agreed to assist in establishing an exciting nature trail in and around the town of Keshena.

Indian Girl Guides

This won't be just an ordinary nature trail. This trail will be rich in the heritage and background of the Menominee Indians. Full-blooded Menominee girls will be trained by the University, in botany, zoology, history and something that Dr. Shapiro calls "ecology: consciousness" before they will be qualified for guides next summer.

Members of the group were getting their feet wet by following Jim Caldwell of the Menominee Enterprises on Friday afternoon.

The group moved from the hot sun on the smooth flat rocks of a large outcropping, into the dappled sunshine of a hardwood forest, further into the cool, moist pine forest areas, until they burst upon the roaring contest will be presented a Wolf River. Rogers to Join State Study on Mental Health

KAUKAUNA — Three Democratic legislators, including Assemblyman William Rogers, Kaukauna, were elected officers of the legislative council committee to study mental health laws in Madison Friday.

Rogers was elected vice-chairman of the 12-man group charged with the codifying the state mental health act. Others named were Sen. Henry Dorman, Racine, chairman; Assemblyman Manny S. Brown, Racine, secretary.

Rogers encouraged area citizens to contact him concerning any specific problems they may have about the mentally ill. Other committeemen are Holder Rasmussen, Spooner; Robert Warren, Green Bay; Franklin Jahnke, Markesan; James Boulton and Dr. Leonard Ganser, Madison. Dr. Charles Cahill and Francis Wendt, Racine, and Dr. John Petersik, Oshkosh.

County Police Check Freedom, Dale Burglaries

Outagamie County police this morning were investigating burglaries at Ludwig Lanes at Freedom and Steffens' Elevator at Dale. Sheriff's department authorities were told about 10:20 a.m. today that entry was gained into Ludwig Lanes after a back door was forced.

Although it was not immediately determined if anything was missing, authorities said there was damage inside the building.

A window was broken to gain entry at the Dale firm. The burglary was reported about 8:10 a.m. today. There was a Chase Home-School Association damage inside the building and for the season. Donald Green an inventory is scheduled to be listed as its head in Friday determine if anything is missing.

Find New Way To Stop Shortness Of Breath, Gasping For Air In Asthma Attacks

Formula Doctors Prescribe Most Opens Locked Bronchial Tubes. Stops Attacks. Restores Free Breathing In Minutes.

New York, N.Y. — A modern medical formula has proved amazingly effective in relieving shortness of breath and difficulty in breathing for asthma sufferers. It stops choking attacks in minutes and restores normal breathing again. Prompt use helps severe attacks from even starting.

This formula is so effective doctors prescribe it more than any other. It comes in tiny tablets called Primatene.

Primatene promptly opens up locked bronchial tubes and keeps them open for hours. Trapped air is released. You can breathe in and out freely again. It loosens phlegm. Calms panic. Brings you back to normal fast. Taken as directed, Primatene is so safe it can now be sold without prescription in most states. Always carry Primatene with you.

Calumet Sets Conservation Field Study

SHERWOOD — Conservation Field Days have been scheduled Wednesday and Thursday at Schulz' woods and High Cliff State Park for 1,584 Calumet County pupils, in co-operation with the State Conservation Department.

Pupils in the fifth through eighth grades will participate in two groups with the fifth and sixth graders observing forestry management and protection at the Wilmer Schulz farm while seventh and eighth graders learn fish and game management, law enforcement and parks and recreation facets of conservation at the park marina.

Schools participating Wednesday will be Chilton public, Sacred Heart, Sherwood, St. Mary, Brillion; Hilbert public, St. Mary, Stockbridge; St. Mary, Chilton; Brillion public and St. John the Baptist, St. John and St. Mary, Hilbert.

Attending Thursday will be New Holstein public and Holy Trinity; Trinity Lutheran, Brillion; St. Peter Lutheran, Hilbert; St. Augustine, Chilton; Holy Rosary, New Holstein and Trinity Lutheran, Rantoul.

Pupils are asked to dress for the activity and provide their own pencils. Booklets will be provided.

Instructors will be members of the State Conservation Department. Charles P. Nikolai, Calumet County 4-H club agent is coordinator of the event.

Change in Control of Assembly Would Revise Leadership Posts

MADISON — One of the effects of a change in majority domination of one of the houses of the legislature is that it opens up many more leadership positions than were formerly available to members of a minority party.

In the 1967 Legislature, if the Republicans recapture the Assembly, the turnover will be far more massive and far reaching than most such changes.

A large number of the formerly top-ranking Republican Assemblymen and the respected back-benchers of the party will not take seats when the session convenes in January.

It will allow many of the men who, in the past session's minority party position had little chance for leadership, an unequalled opportunity to move up to positions of leadership and influence in the state's lower house.

Appeal of Conviction

The status of Assembly party leader Paul Algoni of Minnoka is clouded pending his bribery conviction appeal in the state Supreme Court. Gone for a variety of reasons will be seven other leading lights of the Assembly Republicans.

A few well placed upsets in the Assembly races now being waged could increase the number of openings that might have to be filled.

Given the best chances by many capitol observers for opportunities for advancement within party ranks in a majority or minority role are Assemblymen David Martin of Neenah and Harold Clemens of Waukegan.

The Democrats, barring general election losses, are in better shape in the Assembly than are the Republicans in terms of continuity of leadership. Losses during the session and in the primary election affected back benchers only.

But the Senate Democrats, who might gain a seat or two in the general election, will be without their experienced leader Sen. Richard Zaborski of Milwaukee. Zaborski, during the last session, announced that he would not seek reelection to his seat, and then ran for and lost the Democratic nomination for state treasurer. The Democratic mantle of leadership in the upper house will probably fall to Sen. Fred Risser of Madison.

Assemblyman George Molinaro (D-Kenosha) has decided not to step down from his leadership post on the Legislative Joint Committee on Finance. Early in the 1966 session, Molinaro, now a co-chairman of the powerful committee, reportedly desired to end his service on the committee with the start of the 1967 session. At that time, he appeared to be grooming young Assemblyman David Obey (D-Wausau) to take his place among the Democrats on the group.

But Molinaro recently said that he has decided to remain on the committee for at least one more full session if he is re-elected, and at the same time spoke highly of freshman Assemblyman Mark Lipscomb (D-Milwaukee) as a potential future leader.

The relative insulation of the inner workings of Wisconsin state agencies from overt political activities was well-demonstrated last week by John Moses, director of the State Department of Veterans Affairs.

Moses was discussing plans for reorganization procedures for state government with a subcommittee of the temporary commission charged with the responsibility for preparing such plans for the 1967 Legislature. Head of that commission is William R. Kellett of Menasha.

Moses explained that he feels that changing the administrative leadership of the department would make the operation of services to veterans in Wisconsin susceptible to political pressures.

He recalled a personal experience in California's department, which he said can be influenced by the state's governor, Edmund "Pat" Brown.

He tossed a lapel pin reading "I'm for Pat Brown" across the table to the committee members.

"Those were made by the thousands in veteran's institutions," he said.

One of the major problems of newspaper editors across the country is maintaining a trained staff in a profession which demands long hours, hard work and in which the pay scale is relatively low.

Many newsmen remain in the trade because of a love for the profession and for the intangible rewards that are offered in almost no other occupation.

The pressures are becoming especially intense inside of the usually tightly-knit state capitol press corps, which normally numbers about 15 or 16 men.

The turnover has been so rapid in recent months that a cub reporter who started on the beat a little over a year ago has already climbed about half-way up the seniority roles.

During the past 18 months, nine of the men who have made up the group of reporters who cover state governmental and political activities have dropped out of the pool. The changes have affected six of the eight major bureaus and newspapers covering the state capital.

Those who have left have dropped from the ranks for a variety of reasons. Two of the very best have died. Two others have taken public relations positions with educational agencies at pay levels which far exceed the normal pay grade of reporters. A number of transfers within organizations, and an actual promotion or two have resulted in the remainder of the turnover.

The trend represents an unfortunate condition, however. The purpose of a political reporter is to translate political action into thought. Such responsibilities demand experience and background to do well, and those leaving the corps are among those with the greatest exposure to state politics.

The planned appearance of Postmaster General Lawrence O'Brien at the end of the month at a fund raising dinner for Lt. Gov. Patrick J. Lucey, the Democratic nominee for governor, brings to six the number of past or planned forays into Wisconsin by former New Frontiersmen on behalf of Lucey and the unspoken presidential aspirations.

New Approach to Metropolitan Government

Leaders of the Brown County Board are planning to ask the Wisconsin Legislature to extend the powers of metropolitan government to counties in the state with a population of 75,000 or more instead of limiting those powers to Milwaukee County as is presently the case.

A section of the statutes dealing with county government provides that in counties of 250,000 or more population the county board "is vested with all powers of a local legislative and administrative character" necessary to consolidate various public services on a district or metropolitan area basis. Such services include "the subject matter of water, sewers, streets and highways, fire, police, and health."

The Brown County Board has been discussing a metropolitan police force for the entire county, but doubt has been expressed whether the county has the legal authority under state law to proceed on such a course. As a result, the board's Steering and Advice Committee, composed of the chairmen of all board committees, voted to petition the legislature to give the powers of metropolitan government now awarded exclusively to Milwaukee County to other urban counties of the state.

This is a refreshingly new approach to the matter of home rule for counties, which this newspaper has discussed before. Previous discussions have assumed that a change in the state's constitution which directs that all county governments in the state must be uniform, would be necessary to achieve such a goal. And amendment of the constitution is a slow and hazardous process.

Extension of metropolitan powers to other counties could be accomplished merely by amending state law, and this of course could be done by legislative action.

The Brown County committee set the figure as low as 75,000 in the hope that other urban counties would join in pressing for such legislative action.

Certainly both Outagamie and Winnebago Counties should be vitally concerned. An intensive study of the possible benefits of such action should be undertaken by the county boards of each of these counties.

University Avenue

There is a move afoot in the city of Green Bay to rename Willow Street University Avenue, signifying that this street will become the principal approach to the new university site in the northeast corner of the city.

For those not familiar with the intricacies of weaving an automobile from the far west side of that city to the Shorewood site, Willow Street starts just north of the East River off Monroe Avenue and proceeds east through crowded industrial, residential and commercial areas until it finally becomes a modern state highway at the eastern extremity of the city. It is a narrow, twisting street subject to heavy loads of traffic at various times of the day, the worst coming at the times students would be going to or coming from the new university.

The admission that the new University Avenue is the best access route Green Bay can offer to the Shorewood site is a far cry from the dream pictured in the report of the site selection committee in which the new university is supposed to be connected with the state's highway system through $40 millions worth of high level bridges and expressways.

Communists Come in Many Shades

There seems to be a widespread belief in the United States that Communists are Communists the world over, that they always agree and that they are a united group. But while their propaganda all has the same, sad ring to it, quite obviously a lot of Reds don't think others are quite the right shade.

The Communist Government of Poland is currently undergoing something of a shaking down in an effort to promote "purity" in the party. The term does not refer to sexual morality but instead to the degree of adherence to Communist doctrines thought important at this time in Poland. In Yugoslavia, the whole party has been reorganized after some of the former big shots in the movement were demoted or simply tossed out. But although Tito remains in control, all the opposition has not been silenced.

Other East European satellites of the Soviet Union have been objecting to economic pressures from Moscow. Albania of course sides with Red China in the biggest split of all but it is really the dislike of Yugoslavia that turns the Albanians against Russia since they must be against anything Tito is for.

Currently Red China is almost isolated in the inter-party struggle except for the allegiance of distant and ineffective Albania. Even Mongolia is reported leaning toward Russia at this stage. But the efforts of Soviet leaders to get a unified stand against Peking hasn't been successful either. Ho Chi Minh is reluctant to complain too much since he gets a little help in his war from China and some of the Russian supplies go by rail across China. Moscow claims that the Chinese purposely slow down such supplies but certainly some are trickling through and Ho is understandably loathe to handicap them anymore.

When Nikita Khrushchev was premier he called for a worldwide conference of Communist and workers' parties. But even the present Soviet wish for such a conference primarily to denounce China has not found universal agreement among Communist countries. One dispute is whether to charge China with mere deviation from the true path or whether it is indeed not even loyal to communism itself.

All of this does not mean any new bonds of friendship to non-Communist nations. Every Communist country enthusiastically deplores the "imperialism" of the United States, especially in Viet Nam, and every Communist country is on paper in favor of victory for Ho Chi Minh. But the help, despite new pledges of assistance from Moscow, has not been overwhelming. And it is quite possible that Ho prefers the assistance to be of a limited kind.

After all, no one knows better than a Communist how avaricious his fellows can be.

Postmaster Exits Laughing

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Oct. 4, 1866.

The other evening, on the arrival of the mail, Mr. (A. B.) Jackson, Postmaster, received notice of his removal from office.

As a way of letting the assembled crowd know about it, he hung out a flag whereon was painted a man with his head taken off and dripping with blood. A placard bore the legend, "Bread and Butter: The Thrift that Follows Fawcett."

The two — the picture and the legend — caused considerable smiling in a loud way.

Sundry persons have expressed surprise at the removal of the post office to the building just south of the Congregational Church, this church then was the little brown church on the present library site.

We are surprised that everybody can't see that this is simply an operation for the use and behoof of the Eastern Crowd, the well-beloved of the Democrats and their henchmen, the Bread-and-Butters.

Rudolph Haase, Appleton, was elected president of the Northeastern Wisconsin District of the National Association of Letter Carriers. Lee Dale, Ford du Lac, was named vice president.

Leaders Sought for Junior Great Books

Editor, Post-Crescent:

As co-leaders of a Junior Great Books discussion group now beginning its second year at St. Theresa School, we would like to encourage an active participation in the new training program for leaders starting October 18 at the Public Library. We both feel that working with a group of students under this program has been for us, and can be for others, an extremely rewarding experience. What began as a rather dubious venture on our part soon turned into unbounded enthusiasm when we realized how eagerly the children read these books, and with what enjoyment they discussed their interpretation of the ideas presented by the authors.

Actually very little time is involved, once the leaders'

Why Should Public Facilities be Used for 'Free University' Events?

Editor, Post-Crescent:

This letter is prompted by the article, "Marxist's UWM Course Blasted," which appeared in the city edition of the Milwaukee Journal, Sun., Sept. 23.

It is stated in this article Democratic Society (SDS), a militant left-wing organization, is seeking official recognition by the University in order to use the classrooms at the UWM, as a part of a "Free University" program, to establish a course in Marxism, to be taught by Sigmund G. Eisenscher, the former chairman of the Communist Party of Wisconsin.

The SDS at one time stated that the organization was "socialist, Marxist, and democratic," but not Communist. In October of 1965, they conceded that there were Communists in the organization.

Sigmund G. Eisenscher is the father of Michael Eisenscher, a former student at the University of Wisconsin at Madison, who, it is reported, along with Eugene Dennis Jr., the son of the former chairman of the CPUSA, founded the W.E.B. Du Bois Club chapter on the campus at Madison.

This club has been described by J. Edgar Hoover, Director of the F.B.I., "as the most ambitious Communist youth movement in years."

Now let's take a look at these "Free Universities." It is reported that these universities stress Marxism although no Marxist party has a monopoly on them. Some of the subjects being taught at them are: "Introduction to Marxist Thought," "Hallucinogenic Drugs: Uses and Social Implications," "Search for the Authentic Sexual Experience," "Christian Existentialism," "History of Radical Journalism" and "Revolutionary Political Thought."

Members of the teaching staffs include members of the extreme-left, the New Left, both pro-Russian and pro-Chinese Communist Party members, as well as peace and civil rights workers.

The purpose of these "Free Universities" is stated clearly and briefly by a member of the steering committee of the Free University at Berkeley, when he said, "We won't preach any ideology except discontent."

How can we justify the sacrificing of thousands of lives in our fight against Communism when we allow our public institutions to be used to foster the purpose of these Communists?

In our present course, we are making a mockery of the words of Abraham Lincoln at Gettysburg — "That from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave their last full measure of devotion — that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain."

It is time that these Communists be stopped in their march forward and one method to deter their advance is to stop their use of our public educational institutions to perpetuate their ideologies.

Alderman Cites Facts About City Home

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I feel it my duty as chairman of the Welfare and Ordinance Committee to answer the letter to the People's Forum dated September 29, signed by S. E. K. regarding "Mayor Deserves Support On Opposing City Home."

Dear SE (E) K:

When ever anyone makes public statements, it is always wise first to seek the facts. I wish to give you the real facts in response to your statements.

1. "Mayor Buckley wanted to close the home because he feared for the safety of the residents." Did you know that the home is inspected regularly by the various city departments such as fire, building, plumbing, electrical, health, etc. That this home is also inspected by the State Board of Health whose responsibility it is to see to it that a home of this kind meets with at least the minimum of health and safety requirements set forth by the State Board of Health. It is the State Board of Health that issues the license which permits the operation of the home.

2. "Also articles about Ald. Thompson and Mr. Ehrlicke wanting to build a new home with the Appleton taxpayers money." Did you know that two weeks prior to Mayor Buckley's statements regarding the City Home the Welfare and Ordinance Committee had ordered a complete study for the future of the City Home requesting a complete study and survey so that an intelligent decision can be made regarding the City Home's future. The questions to be answered by this study are (1) should the present home be renovated, (2) should a new home be built, (3) should the home be closed? Only after a complete study can these questions be answered. It is our hope to have these answered by the first month or two of 1967.

3. "Quit wasting our money." Are you aware that the cost of operating the present City Home in 1965 cost the Appleton taxpayers the total sum of $49.12 per resident for the entire year! The Welfare and Ordinance Committee has requested a study to determine if a small rate increase should be made to erase even this small cost to the Appleton taxpayer.

4. "Mayor Buckley and Ald. Thompson are feuding because Ehrlicke wants to go to Iowa at taxpayers expense to get information so he can build a home for unwed mothers." Are you aware of the fact that Mr. Ehrlicke nor myself, nor the committee, has ever considered the building of any kind of home for unwed mothers. No such home is being or will be considered! The fact is Mr. Ehrlicke is looking in to an educational program for the continuation of the teen-age unwed mothers for the continued education of these girls in trouble! In other words, to promote these girls' education during their trial months so that they will not become welfare oriented and be on the welfare rolls for years.

Study of Tax Sharing Should Include Look At Local Government

BY JAMES R. MORGAN

MADISON — Demands for a new system of distributing the local share of state collected taxes to local government units are once again being heard.

My reaction is that if there is to be a serious effort at changing the present system of distributing state collected taxes to local units of government, two things are necessary; one, a new study of the problem and, two, the study should include a re-evaluation of the organization of local government in Wisconsin.

Tax distribution was extensively studied by the Blue Ribbon Committee in 1950. They determined that there were two major problems: The high property tax burden in Wisconsin compared to other states, and the necessity for a new method of sharing state collected locally shared taxes.

The committee designed a formula which took both of these factors into account. They tested the formula by applying it and determining the resulting full value tax rate for each county.

The final formula was selected only after several others had been tested and rejected.

The question of property tax relief was resolved by the action of the 1961 Legislature. It provided two property tax relief programs — general property tax relief and personal property tax relief for inventories and farm animals. Cost of these property tax relief programs to the state in 1966-67 is $101 million.

UNRESOLVED

The problem of distribution of state taxes was left unresolved.

Since the formula proposed by the Blue Ribbon Committee took into account both property tax relief and a new method of distribution, it is no longer valid. In addition, a number of important changes have occurred in the state — local fiscal picture since 1960 which should be considered.

1. A new method of sharing individual income taxes. In the last six years the state has retained all of the increased collections due to a rate increase. This has resulted in some changes in the distribution.

2. Sixty per cent of the school districts now receive equalized aids as compared to 34 per cent in 1960.

3. The new Medicare Bill passed by the legislature this year has practically eliminated the relief program administered at either the county or local level. Relief costs contributed to property tax burdens.

4. There has been greater urbanization since 1960.

5. A new method must be devised to distribute corporate income taxes. The formula is not suited to the present day. It imposes a high compliance cost. A charge may be required by pending federal legislation.

LOCAL GOVERNMENT
The time has arrived when the organization of local government in Wisconsin should be re-examined. There have been drastic changes in population, transportation and technology but few changes in the pattern of local government. There are many rural units of government that exist although they have very few government functions to carry on and few people to serve. Relief administration has been transferred, highway services are often contracted out to the county and only the property tax assessment and collection and election functions are still carried on. These functions could easily be carried on by the county.

The state has acted in education by encouraging a substantial reduction in the number of school districts, but has not yet acted in the field of general government. In the metropolitan areas of the state, questions have been raised as to what government unit should administer a particular function. Should certain functions such as police, fire protection, health, streets, garbage collection, etc., be done at the county level? Are there some functions that could be more effectively handled at the state level? These are questions that need to be answered.

James R. Morgan is the commissioner of the State Department of Taxation, and contributes a guest column today for John Wyngaard, who is on vacation.

Strictly Personal

Many of Us Use Only 10 Pct. of Potential

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In a travel book he wrote long ago, Peter Fleming mentioned that he did not propose to describe the wonders of a certain city, because they had often been described before.

In a later book, he decided he had been wrong not to do so because "it does not matter how often anything has been described before, since no two people see or interpret the same thing in the same way."

Harris

I thought of this remark when I took one of my sons and his friend for lunch recently. The friend had just returned from a summer in such places as Greece and Turkey, and he was telling us about them.

What he observed there were things that few adults would notice, for children see everything they can take in. Adults see only the expected, what has been implanted in their minds by tradition and literature and their preconceived notions.

But children notice things that escape our attention. I have made the 330-mile trip to our summer house scores of times; I see practically nothing of note along the way. Yet, each time, one of the children observes something new or interesting or amusing — and, generally speaking, the younger the child, the more he sees.

One of the sad concomitants of getting older is that our visual and sensory "arteries," so to speak, harden along with our regular arteries. We see what we anticipate seeing, our reactions become fixed and stereotyped, and we lose our capacity for finding novelty in the accustomed.

This tendency, I think, explains why geniuses are so often compared to children, and everyone remarks upon the child-like qualities of creative men, whether in the arts or in the sciences. They have somehow retained their capacity for looking at the commonplace and seeing (or interpreting it) in a fresh and significant manner.

One objection I find to LSD and such psychedelic drugs — apart from their dangerous qualities — is that the search for new sensory experiences could be justified only after we had exhausted our present supply. But most of us see, hear, feel, taste and enjoy perhaps no more than 10 per cent of what is available in the world — just as we use no more than 10 per cent of our brain potential.

One of the main tasks confronting the human race in the years ahead is to learn to become more like children in our capacity for "taking in" the world; to recapture the sense of curiosity and wonder and physical delight felt by a child in experiencing outer reality.
